Helping Professionals Becoming a

Registered Expressive Arts Therapist (REAT) or

Registered Expressive Art Consultant/ Educator (REACE)

at the International Expressive Arts Therapy Association® (IEATA®)

This unique Integrative Expressive Arts Therapy Professional Certificate Training Program in 2022-2023 is a practical course, provides social workers, helping professionals and other interested parties with hands-on experiences of the healing power of expressive arts therapy. It integrates the person-centered philosophy, Jungian approach and phenomenological perspective as the main theoretical frameworks in expressive arts therapy and provides in-training clinical practicum and supervision for participants to put their learnings into practice.

It comprises 4 phases with experiential learning, lectures, live demonstrations, incorporated with small group (trio) reflective learning, in-training practicum and supervision, and the process is supported by supervisors who hold the REAT credential.
